Legislative Council Elections

JD(S) leads in first round

Mysuru, June 12 (MTY&DM)- Former Legislative Council Deputy Chairman Marithibbegowda of JD(S) took the lead over his rivals after the first round of counting of votes polled in the biennial election to the State Legislative Council from South Teachers Constituency, comprising the four districts of Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar and Hassan. The election was held on June 8.

The counting of votes began at 8 am this morning at Maharani's Women's Commerce and Management College on Valmiki Road in Vinayakanagar (Paduvarahalli) under tight Police security. The counting of votes for South-West Teachers and South-West Graduates Constituencies too are being held at Maharani's College here.

After the first round of counting of South Teachers Constituency in which 7,000 of the 16,707 votes cast were counted, Marithibbegowda of JD(S) was leading by a comfortable margin of 468 votes against his nearest rival M. Lakshmana of the Congress.

Marithibbegowda (JD-S)

Niranjanmurthy (BJP)

Results to be known only late in the evening

While Marithibbegowda bagged 2,605 votes, Lakshmana of the Congress polled 2,137 votes and B. Niranjanmurthy of the BJP had got 1,757 votes. Apart from the candidates of the three prominent parties, there are six independent candidates in the fray — A.H. Gopalakrishna, D.K. Tulasappa, Dr. S.B.M. Prasanna (Dr. Ajay Prasanna), Prof. Mahadev, M.N. Ravishankar and P.A. Sharath Raj — who have all failed to make a notable impact after the first round of counting, which concluded at 1 pm.

Soon as the counting process started at 8 am, the ballot papers were taken out of the boxes and made into bundles of 25 each.

Siddu in city

Former CM and MLA Siddharamaiah seen at the Thanksgiving function for Varuna Constituency Congress workers at Jayamma Govindegowda Kalyana Mantap in Kuvempunagar in city this morning, as his son Varuna MLA Dr. Yathindra, MP R. Dhruvanarayan and former MP C.H. Vijayashankar look on.

Mysuru, June 12 ((RKB& NNN)- The T.K. Layout residence of former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah would be abuzz with activity and teeming with people while he was in power. The last time one saw this scenario was exactly a month ago, when he was the Chief Minister and had come to cast his vote along with his son Dr. Yathindra.

Just a month later, having lost power, defeated badly in Chamundeshwari Constituency, the former Chief Minister was a pale shadow of his former self, with the confidence and the swagger gone.

Siddharamaiah, landed at Mysore Airport in Mandakalli this morning and drove straight to his house in T.K. Layout at 8.20 am. The whole place looked deserted with even a few Policemen on duty taking it easy.

He is here to attend the Thanksgiving function for Varuna Constituency Congress workers at Jayamma Govindegowda Kalyana Mantap in Kuvempunagar.

A few of his close confidantes like MP R. Dhruvanarayan, former MLAs M.K. Somashekar, M. Sathyanarayana and Bannur Krishnappa and former MP C.H. Vijayashankar were the first to arrive. The leaders introspected on the defeat of the former CM, but he himself was not very keen to participate.

Meanwhile, Minister C. Puttaranga Shetty arrived, touched the feet of Siddharamaiah and sought his blessings.

Harnessing harvested HR

The ancient saying Udyogam purusha lakshanam is understood in common parlance as work is the identity of a man. Scholars have enlarged its interpretation to mean engaging oneself in higher spiritual discipline assuming the status of job. All jobs that one takes up are udyogas. For this column, it suffices to stick to the commonly understood meaning of the aforementioned ancient saying, pointing out that the term purusha has tended to include the other gender also, given the rising presence of women in the world of employment as it were. Readers of dailies got tickled recently by the land's incumbent Prime Minister saying that even producing pakodas for a living is also employment. The widely read off-the-cuff line attributed to the VVIP, interestingly or sadly emerged on the national scene in a grim context of soaring unemployment in the land, in addition to the unguarded declaration by the top brass in the government that it was committed to create two million jobs annually to address the arduous task of providing work to people on a mass scale.

As the entry of more than 10 million virtual elements to the country's workforce annually is mind-boggling to any administration in the country, the shortfall of opportunities for employment of any sort (barring pakoda making) compared to the mass of aspirants for jobs, one is prompted to observe that despite high grades in various qualifying examinations and tests conducted for screening and selecting the right candidates for specific jobs, it is not sufficient to be just competent but more importantly to be competitive.

Skill in doing work and academic excellence with proof of records such as marks card and certificates are different kettles of fish. We have been informed by industry circles that more than 50 per cent of India's engineering graduates emerging from colleges and Universities in numbers said to be about 1,00,000 every year are not competent enough to be employed in industry. More shockingly, it has been disclosed from circles in the computer software world that 94 per cent of the graduates in Computer Science don't possess the skills enough to meet the needs of the sector. The number of subjects and courses available to the country's youth are so large that one can specialise as a professional similar to specialisations in the medical field.

Close to 25 lakh students pass out from Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) each year across the country with no valid data on how they are employed mirroring an apathetic outlook to harnessing the trained human resource. The just announced measure of setting up a National Board for ITI augurs well for the mass harvest of skilled workforce.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Maturing in the middle of the last century, the present healthcare system is actually a sick care system. We have made incredible advances in treatment and technology, but care delivery has remained much the same. It is still largely bricks and mortar where people who are sick or acutely ill come to be treated. It was never designed to deal with the huge growth of chronic disease, which now represents well over 80 percent of all healthcare spend. We have to first help patients understand the drivers that impact their chronic condition better, so they can play a more active role in managing it. The aim is to pro-actively keep people well rather than react when they become ill. — Naresh Trehan in The Times of India.

When she told her mother-in-law about her husband's actions, the woman was surprised, saying that Samar had never done chores when he lived at home with his parents.

The woman has filed a complaint in Family Court in New Cairo. She is seeking 'khula', a procedure through which a Muslim woman can divorce her husband. The case is pending before the Court.

Skeleton Saint and worshipping death

Mexico: Santa Muerte, the folk Saint of Death, and she is the skeletal figurehead of one of the fastest growing religions in Mexico and Central America with an estimated 10-12 million followers. Devotees have begun incorporating the controversial saint into Day of the Dead celebrations in recent years. Santa Muerte, the personification of death, is typically portrayed as a skeletal figure draped in robes and veils.

She is most often associated with protection, healing, and financial well being, and is the only female saint of death in the Americas.

No streetlights, No water supply at Somanathnagara

Sir,

The Government Sahakara Gruhanirmana Sangha, which purchased lands from landowners (agriculture farmers) has developed residential sites and the area is named as Somanathnagara (Kergalli). Now many houses have come up. While some are under construction, some are vacant land along with undeveloped parks.

Though Somanathnagara is a developing extension we residents are facing a lot of problems, especially lack of streetlights due to non-payment of electrical bills by the developer and irregular supply of water since two months. At present we have to purchase water through water tankers.

Not only this, the residents have also to put up with burglars as they are taking advantage of the darkness in the area due to lack of streetlights. Hence we the residents of Somanathnagara request the authorities concerned to rectify these problems as soon as possible.

Ordeal of bus commuters
travelling from Mysuru-Whitefield

Sir,

Apropos Dr. Shyam Prasad's letter titled "Introduce direct buses from Mysuru to Electronic City and Whitefield" highlighting the miserable and pathetic situations faced every week by us and our aged parents (Star of Mysore dated May 9). We the commuters travelling to and from Whitefield are also undergoing the same ordeal, if not even more (difficulties faced are neither repeated nor elaborated).

I request the authorities concerned to either introduce direct buses from Swami Vivekananda Circle, Mysuru to Whitefield over KR Market flyover via Byappanahalli, Swami Vivekananda Road, Pai Layout, Krisharajapuram, Hoody, Whitefield Main Road, Prestige Shantiniketan (Big Bazaar stop), Kadugodi/Vaidehi hospital etc. at Bengaluru regularly with frequency or at least to extend the already existing few via Kempegowda bus terminal; Bengaluru-Mysuru bound bus services of Kuvempunagar bus depot (if it is not feasible economically each and every day) during Friday evenings and also on Monday mornings with a gap of half an hour each.

Such buses will always be full and will be of great help to many commuters who work to the tune of thousands in different companies in particular and regular passengers enroute in general to a great extent.

ZP President reluctant to toe the party line and quit

JD(S) leaders in Zilla Panchayat planning to move no-confidence motion to unseat Nayeema Sultana

Mysuru, June 12 - JD(S) leaders in Mysuru Zilla Panchayat (ZP) are upset as ZP President Nayeema Sultana has refused to step down as per an internal party agreement. They are now planning to move a no-confidence motion to unseat her.

Nayeema Sultana, as per an agreement reached within the party on sharing the post, should have quit the post by now after the completion of the agreed term. But she is neither willing to resign nor responding to feelers sent by the party to quit.

The JD(S), tying up with the BJP, took control of the ZP and made Nayeema Sultana President for 20 months. While being appointed, Nayeema had stiff competition from Parimala Shyam, also from JD(S) who was a strong contender.

While settling the issue between Parimala and Nayeema, the JD(S) leaders allowed Nayeema to occupy the ZP Chief's post for 20 months and told her that Parimala Shyam of Antharasanthe in H.D. Kote would occupy the Chair as the next ZP President for 40 months.

But Nayeema Sultana continued in the post even after the agreed term and JD(S) State President H.D Kumaraswamy intervened on the issue and directed her to resign from the post. However, Nayeema has refused to obey the party bosses. She also skipped many JD(S) meetings claiming that she is not keeping well. Even after completing 25 months, Nayeema is yet to quit.

Nayeema Sultana

Upset over Nayeema's attitude, JD(S) ZP members are planning to move a no-confidence motion against her, forcing her to resign and make way for Parimala Shyam. The 49-member Mysuru ZP has 16 JD(S), 8 BJP, 22 Congress members and 2 independents, with one seat falling vacant after Anil Chikkamadu quit as ZP member following his election to the Assembly.

With no party having an absolute majority, the JD(S) entered into a coalition with the BJP in 2016 to get control of the ZP. As per the coalition agreement, the JD(S) got the President's post, while the BJP got Vice-President's post.

As the ZP President's post was reserved for BCM (Woman), the JD(S) which had two women BCM community members, opted first for Nayeema Sultana, while leaving the second term to another candidate Parimala Shyam, who too had lobbied hard for the post.

JD(S) MLAs from the district are likely to hold a meeting after June 15 to discuss the next course of action. But now that the Congress and JD(S) are running a coalition Government in the State, political equations too will change and accordingly, the JD(S) may align with the Congress after ditching the BJP.

Upset over Nayeema's stand, JD(S) MLAs from the district are likely to hold a meeting after June 15 to discuss the next course of action. But now that the Congress and JD(S) are running a coalition Government in the State, political equations too will change and accordingly, the JD(S) may align with the Congress after ditching the BJP.

If JD(S) and Congress agree to share power in the ZP too, then the Congress may stake claim for ZP President's post. Incidentally, Congress is the single largest party in the ZP with 22 members and it might, in all probability, insist on the President's post.

Meanwhile, the BJP might have to sit in the Opposition in the event of Congress and JD(S) entering into a coalition in the ZP too just as they did to capture power in the State after a hung Assembly.

Amidst reports that the ZP Chief may not quit on her own, Nayeema Sultana said that she has already completed 25 months in power and would like to continue for five more months so that she could complete half of the ZP's 5-year term.

"As I intend to complete 30 months in office, I will not resign. After the 30-month tenure I will not stay in the post and will make way for another member to occupy the post," she said.

Meanwhile, Parimala Shyam said that as per the agreement reached within the party in 2016, the member who becomes the President first can occupy the post for 20 months. "But the current President has refused to quit even after completion of the agreed term. Ministers G.T. Devegowda and S.R. Mahesh will now hold talks with CM H.D. Kumaraswamy after June 15, when a decision will be taken on electing a new President," she said.

Columnists too should be considered for Akademi Awards: Writer

Mysuru, June 12 - Observing that newspaper columnists too should be considered for awards of various Akademies, senior writer Dr. Krishnamurthy Hanur said that columnists generally aim to correct the wrongs in society though their writings.

Dr. Hanur

He was speaking at a programme jointly organised by Arivu Trust, Kala Suruchi and Mysuru District Journalists Association (MDJA) during the release of the book titled 'Bhavadolagina Bimba', a collection of 51 columns of Dr. Sundar Kenaje in Kannada here on Sunday.

Observing that there should be more number of column articles in newspapers, he said that though the articles may or may not change the attitude of politicians, they certainly are targeted at correcting the society, whenever it goes wrong.

Senior Journalist Padmaraja Dandavathi, in his address, said that being a columnist, one should be critical to the core in order to highlight the lapses of those in the ruling dispensation without any second thought.

Sharing his experiences, Dandavathi, who was a columnist for a vernacular daily for close to a decade, said that it is also important to be a reader first before becoming a writer, so that one can effectively use alliterations relating to the famous works of the past. It is left to the audience to decipher the quantity of research undertaken before writing a column.

Well-known writer and columnist Subraya Chokkadi, in his address, bemoaned the riders being issued to columnists nowadays. Stating that writing a column was a demanding job, he said that with limitation of words in an article, the day is not far off when columnists may take to literature.

MDJA President C.K. Mahendra presided. Art critic Dr. Rama V. Bennur, Social activist Santosh Koulagi, UoM faculty Dr. Niranjan Vanalli, Columnist Kusuma Ayarahalli, Publisher U.S. Mahesh, MDJA General Secretary K.J. Lokesh Babu, Journalist Mullur Raju and others were present on the occasion.

Man strangles woman, kills her by drowning

Mysuru, June 12 (Rajesh Hampapura)- In a dastardly act, a man strangulated a woman he knew and killed her by drowning her in water. The incident occurred last evening near Kabini bridge between Haradanahalli taluk and Hommaragalli.

Accused Dharmesh

Victim Dakshayani

Dharmesh, an autorickshaw driver from Kanchamalli village in H.D. Kote taluk, has killed Dakshayani (40) from the same village. Even as the fight between the two was unfolding, Haradanahalli Gram Panchayat (GP) former President Rajendra and others noticed the altercation and tried to prevent the tragedy. But in no time the incident occurred and the alleged murderer who tried to escape was nabbed by the villagers and handed over to the Police.

Dakshayani, who belonged to Kanchamalli village in H.D. Kote, was married to Nagaraju from Koppasoge village of Nanjangud. The couple had two children. About four years ago, Nagaraju passed away. Dakshayani had left the children with her parents and she was living alone at her husband's village.

On Monday, Dakshayani had come to her parents house to buy clothes and books for her children and after that she said she will be leaving to her husband's village. Meanwhile, Dharmesh, who had also come to the village, called Dakshayani and both of them left in the autorickshaw. He stopped the autorickshaw near the Kabini bridge picked up a quarrel and attacked her.

GP former President Rajendra and a few others, who were passing by, noticed the altercation and by the time they could go near, Dharmesh and Dakshayani have fallen from the bridge into the water. Two sentenced to life for murder of woman

Mysuru, June 12 (RK&DM)- A City Court has sentenced two persons to life imprisonment after holding them guilty of murdering a 20-year-old woman in 2014. Swamy and Shankar of Ranganathapura in Begur hobli of Gundlupet taluk are the ones who have been sentenced, while the case of a minor boy, who is also an accused, is pending before the Court.

Swamy, who was said to be interested in marrying one Puttammanni of his village, had lured her to come to Nanjangud along with him, after promising her of marriage. She was also asked to bring cash and jewellery.

As told, Puttammanni came along with the jewellery following which Swamy, along with his accomplices Shankar and a minor boy, took her in a car to Nanjangud on Jan. 6, 2014.

As the car reached Military Maala, a secluded place near Nanjangud, the trio strangled Puttammanni with her veil and then smashed her head with a boulder, killing her on the spot. The trio later left the spot along with Rs.50,000 cash & jewellery.

As Puttammanni did not return to her house, her parents lodged a missing complaint with Gundlupet Police. However, her body was found in a decomposed state several days later at the spot where she was killed.

Police then arrested Swamy, Shankar and the minor boy on charges of murder, one month after the crime based on the clue that the accused had pledged the gold jewellery of Puttammanni at pawn broker shops in Nanjangud and Mysuru.

The jurisdictional Nanjangud Police, who investigated the case, submitted charge-sheet against the accused. The Second Additional District and Sessions Judge Vijaykumar M. Anandashetti, who heard the case on Monday, sentenced Swamy and Shankar to life imprisonment. Public Prosecutor H.D. Anandkumar argued on behalf of the State.

West Asia Mess. Where Is India?

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

India's Foreign Minister boldly declared: "India follows on UN sanctions, not unilateral sanctions by any country." Will Delhi have the political courage and the economic stamina to stand by that declaration?

Donald Trump's impetuousness often gets boosted by his ego. This makes him a dangerous player in conflict situations. West Asia, already on edge with clashing ideologies, has been brought closer to war by his eccentric pull-out from the Iran nuclear deal and all-out backing to Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman's (MBS) policies of provocation at home and in the region. Add to this Trump's support to Israel's military adventurism, and we have a tinder box ready to catch fire any moment.

Has a side explosion already taken place? Although there has been no confirmation anywhere, month-long rumours of a coup against MBS have not died down. What is confirmed is that there was a gun fight in the Royal Palace in Riyadh.

Officials claim it was guards shooting down a toy drone that flew too close to the Palace. Unofficial reports said MBS had been evacuated to a near-by bunker. That a publicity lover like him has not appeared in public since April 12 is a fact; the gun fight took place on April 21. Assassination is an unacceptable solution to political problems and we must hope that MBS is safe.

That his policies had created unrest in the region cannot be denied. He is the prime mover behind the long and ongoing war in Yemen that he is unable to win despite US support. He organised powerful Arab countries to launch a boycott of Qatar for towing an independent line. He launched a purge within the royal family to consolidate his power: Eleven Princes, four Ministers, dozens of ex-Ministers and military chiefs were detained. Prince Khalid, living in exile in Germany, appealed to his uncles and others to rise against autocracy and take over the country.

Alongside creating powerful enemies, MBS has also initiated policies that fill nations with apprehension. He wants to build 16 nuclear reactors with facilities for uranium enrichment as well. Trump supports this, saying that it would mean massive contracts for American companies. Saudi Arabia was the first country he visited as US President and he signed a $ 100 billion arms deal with Riyadh.

The implications of this bonhomie take on worrying dimensions when we realise that Saudi Arabia sees Iran as its primary enemy. Trump's view is along similar lines. For Israel Iran has for long been a personification of evil. This makes up a triumvirate capable of unpredictable action. There is already a war of mutual annihilation going on in Syria in which all these countries and Russia and Turkey are involved. A mess of this kind is rare in history.

It is a mess that involves other countries, too, because American pressure tactics include the threat of sanction against countries that do business with Iran. The threat succeeded the first time around, fifteen years ago. This time European Union (EU) has not repudiated the Iran nuclear deal a la Trump and it has officially announced that the European Investment Bank will back EU projects in Iran. China and Russia are also against the Trump initiative, so the idea of sanctions may not prove as effective as before. But it may cause serious dislocations. India is directly affected by this mess, partly due to its own policy peculiarities aimed at pleasing Saudi Arabia.

Only Muslims are sent as ambassadors to Jeddah, for example. Worse, not a whisper is raised against the flow of unauthorised funds from Saudi sources to India, nor about the open activities of Wahabi missionaries to radicalise the Muslims of India. Nearly 100 Indians have joined the ISIS operations in Iraq.

When Bush's America imposed sanctions against Iran and threatened action against countries trading with Iran, Delhi cringed and sought US permission to get Iranian crude oil on credit. This time India's Foreign Minister boldly declared: "India follows on UN sanctions, not unilateral sanctions by any country." Will Delhi have the political courage and the economic stamina to stand by that declaration? For one thing, India, in response to challenges in its own neighbourhood, has walked into strategic arrangements with the US. For another, corporate entities with profound interests in the US market are powerful in today's India and the Government is beholden to them.

Iranian President Rouhani, in his recent visit to India, held out a clutch of co-operation plans, or "long-term strategic contracts" as he called them, covering the Chabahar trade route, energy, connectivity and security. Iran is a natural ally of India, geographically and historically. Our relations with it should not be at the mercy of fickle-minded third parties.

Rengmein Leck, beads necklace from Nagaland on display at IGRMS

The Naga people are an ethnic group conglomerating of several tribes native to the North-Eastern part of India and North-Western Myanmar (Burma). Nagas descend from Tibet-Myanmar ethnic races. Most of them live in Nagaland, Manipur and Arunachal Pradesh. There are about 3.5 million Nagas, with maybe two million of them in Nagaland in India.

Nagas speak languages and dialects that are part of Tibeto-Burman family. Their ornaments are simple but pretty. A necklace of beads is generally worn round the neck. The beads may be made of some kind of stone or shells.

The Konyaks are distinguishable from other Naga tribes by their pierced ears and tattoos which they have all over their faces, hands, chests, arms, and calves. Konyaks are famous for gun-smithing, iron-smelting, brass-works and gunpowder-making. They are also adept in making 'Janglaü' (machetes) and wood sculptures.

The Konyaks have the largest population among the Nagas. They are found in Tirap, Longding and Changlang districts of Arunachal Pradesh; Sibsagar district of Assam and also in Myanmar. They are known in Arunachal Pradesh as the Wanchos. 'Wancho' is a synonymous term for 'Konyak.'

In continuation of its series under 'Exhibit of the Month,' the Southern Regional Centre (SRC) of Indira Gandhi Rashtriya Manav Sangrahalya (IGRMS), Mysuru, has displayed Rengmein Leck, a beads necklace from Nagaland at its Wellington House on Irwin Road in city.

Rengmein Leck is mostly worn by Konyak Naga community in Nagaland.

The show was inaugurated by Dr. Kikkeri Veera Narayana, Director, Naada Noopura Visual and Performing Centre, Mysuru. J. Vijay Mohan, Officer In-Charge, was also present.

The exhibit will be on display during the month of June from 10 am to 6 pm daily.

'Story of Kaveri' wins 8 new Awards

The short film, initiated by Cycle Pure Agarbathies and created by Reforest India, addresses the alarming problem of water scarcity in the Kaveri and gives a local solution to this crisis with a hard-hitting message.

Mysuru, June 12- 'The Story of Kaveri (and every river, everywhere),' a short film initiated by Cycle Pure Agarbathies, and created by Reforest India, has won seven elephants and one black elephant award at the Kyoorius Awards-2018 held recently at The Dome, NSCI, Mumbai. The awards were handed over by Bollywood superstar Amitabh Bachchan.

'The Story of Kaveri' has charmed audiences across the country, winning a total of 15 awards both nationally and internationally. The short film has been critically acclaimed for its creative approach and impeccable timing.

The film addresses the alarming problem of water scarcity in the Kaveri and gives a local solution to this crisis with a hard-hitting message.

Reforest India hoped to use the film as a catalyst to a successful rehabilitation of River Kaveri (Cauvery). Reforest India intends on doing this through their "plant one tree at a time" initiative. They have successfully planted and preserved over 60,000 trees and continues to seek out co-operation and donations to the cause.

The film narrative brings to life an Indian mythological tale of a demon, who created drought and wrought water wars. The people dying of thirst are saved by a Mother Goddess who descends on earth in the form of a river. The story, like the state of the river in today's times, takes an ugly dystopian turn and portrays the futility of fighting over a dying river.

North Korea promises 'Complete Denuclearisation'

Trump-Kim meet at Singapore

Singapore, June 12 - US President Donald Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong Un today pledged to work towards complete denuclearisation of the Korean peninsula while Washington committed to provide security guarantees for its old enemy.

But a joint statement signed at the end of their historic summit in Singapore gave few details on how either goal would be achieved. The document also made no mention of the international sanctions that have crippled North Korea's economy, for pursuing its nuclear weapons programme.

"President Trump committed to provide security guarantees to the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) and Chairman Kim Jong Un reaffirmed his firm and unwavering commitment to complete denuclearisation of the Korean Peninsula," said a joint statement issued after their historic summit in Singapore.

But the joint statement did say the two sides had agreed to recover the remains of prisoners of war and those missing in action and repatriating them.

Earlier in the day, Trump predicted an eventual agreement on Pyongyang's nuclear weapons, a gut-level assessment Trump had claimed he would make within the first minutes of the meeting. Minutes before the historic handshake, Trump tweeted that his top economic adviser Larry Kudlow had suffered a heart attack.

Truckers to go on indefinite stir from June 18

Mysuru, June 12 (PM&DM)- Following a call given by Federation of Karnataka Lorry Owners Association and All India Confederation of Goods Vehicle Owners Association, the Mysuru District Truckers Association will launch an indefinite lorry strike from June 18 in protest against rising diesel prices and other issues concerning lorry owners.

Addressing a press meet at Pathrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, the Mysuru District Truckers Association President N. Srinivas Rao said that the lorry strike has been called to protest against increasing diesel prices, abnormal hike in third party insurance premium and exorbitant toll on Highways.

Pointing out that diesel prices are rising by the day which has badly hurt truck owners, Rao said the 11.7 per cent hike in third party insurance premium and high toll being collected on Highways, has heavily burdened the truck owners, who are already reeling under high prices of spare parts.

As such, the Association will launch an indefinite stir from June 18 with lorries keeping off the roads, he said. Association office-bearers Mahesh, Shreyas and Srikantaswamy were present at the press meet.

The former CM true to form and in his characteristic voice asked Shetty whether he had conducted an official meeting after he took charge to which he replied that he would hold it as soon as he returns tomorrow.

Then Siddharamaiah quipped in Kannada, a proverb, "Siri bandavarige jana kannige kanalla"(Once a person becomes rich, people are not visible to him) and said, "I hope you will not forget me now that you have got power."

Meanwhile, Dr. Yathindra came out of the house and received petitions from the people of his constituency and promised to look into their grievances.

Later, addressing a press conference, Siddharamaiah, to a pointed question on his defeat in Chamundeshwari constituency, said that people had given the verdict and he accepted it.

On Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) saying that he was scared about the rampant corruption in the corridors of Vidhana Soudha and how he would find it difficult to control, Siddharamaiah said that now that he (HDK) is the CM, he has to handle the situation.

To another question on dissidence in the Congress, he said that everybody including M.B. Patil, B. C.Patil, Sudhakar, Eshwar Khandre and a few others are all cooperating and there is no dissidence and added that the BJP will never succeed in luring the MLAs from either the Congress or the JD(S).

He said that the Coordination Committee meeting of which he is the Chairman will be held on June 14 at Bengaluru. He expressed confidence that the coalition government will complete five years in office.

Asked about the tie-up with JD(S) for 2019 Parliamentary elections, he said that as AICC (All India Congress Committee) General Secretary K.C. Venugopal in-charge of Karnataka had already talked about the understanding, it would happen.

JD(S) leads in first round

Tight security around counting centre

After all the bundles of ballot papers were mixed, 500 ballot papers were assigned to each of the 14 counting tables for separation of valid and invalid votes and for counting of first preference votes to candidates.

A candidate who secures 50 percent of the valid first preference votes plus one will be declared the winner.

The counting of the second and third preference votes will be taken up only if no candidate gets the required number after the counting of the first preference votes.

As many as 16,707 out of the 20,677 voters of South Teachers Constituency had exercised their franchise in the election held on June 8.

Tight Police security was provided at the counting centre to ensure that no untoward incident takes place, with Mounted Police personnel and scores of other Police personnel keeping a watch all around the Centre.

With the counting process on, vehicular movement on Valmiki Road and other roads in the vicinity were blocked and motorists had to take alternative routes.

While the trend in the South Teachers Constituency came to be known after the first round of counting, the counting of the first round first preference votes in South-West Teachers and South-West Graduates Constituencies was still underway when we went to the Press.

The Election Commission had provided NOTA (none of the above) option for the first time in the Legislative Council polls.

Entry to the centre was allowed only to persons authorised by the Election Commission.

Also mobile phones, except for the officials and the staff permitted by the Returning Officer (RO) were not allowed inside the counting centre.

Mysuru Regional Commissioner (RC) P. Hemalatha is the RO for all the three Constituencies.

Elsewhere in the State, the counting of votes for South-East Teachers and Bengaluru Graduates Constituencies began at R.V. College in Bengaluru, while the counting of votes for North-East Graduates Constituency got underway at Kalaburagi.

Although, the JD(S) and Congress are coalition partners in the State government, the two parties are fighting separately in these polls, with the Opposition BJP making a strong bid to win in all the six seats.

Even as the counting process is underway, officials did not rule out the possibility of the counting process extending till late today or even early hours of Wednesday.

Womenfolk scale new heights...

Having heard about the tales of Himalayan Expedition on several occasions and having listened to my son's tales several times, I was little apprehensive whether I can do a Himalayan expedition or not. I was having back pain and was apprehensive about the cold too but I could still do it and that was a moment to celebrate, says Suma Mahesh, Past President of Innerwheel Club of Mysore Central.

Tiger Adventure Foundation (TAF), in association with The Mountain Goat, had organised an exclusive trekking to Mount Baraadsar Pass for the women folk of Karnataka from April 18 to May 2, 2018.

I was a witness to the 67th Republic Day celebration on Jan.26, 2015 which was the first R-Day for Narendra Modi, as the Prime Minister of India and it was he who gave a call 'Nari Shakti' wherein the females from all the Tri services, namely Army, Navy and Indian Air force marched with pride on the Rajpath. And in the team which marched on the Rajpath, we had one girl officer Ananya Balasubramanya of NIE College who made into the Services from Mysuru. She was in the Indian Air Force Contingent. Marching on the Rajpath is a rare honour anybody gets in his/her life.

Taking a cue from that day, we at TAF had taken an all-ladies team to the National Himalayan Trekking Expedition-2018 to Mount Baraadsar Pass which is located at a height of 14,500 ft between the Rupin and Supin valleys. The Pass is virtually on the border of Uttarakhand and Himachal Pradesh and it also coincided with 65th year of first ascent on Mt. Everest by Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay.

About 27 females participated in this expedition; the females were from Shivamogga, Chikkaballapur, Madikeri, Bengaluru, Hassan and Mysuru.

PHF Riya Solanki, a 13-year-old girl from Mysuru who has got the track record of summiting six Peaks/ Pass/ Tops, in Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand since last five years apart from summiting on the Everest Base Camp which is at a height of 17,590 feet last year in Nepal, had taken the mantle of the expedition.

Earlier the trekkers left Mysuru city on April 17 via Delhi and reported to Dehradun on April 20 and the team had acclimatisation, orientation, at Sankri Base Camp. Before summiting on the Baraadsar Pass, the team passed through various camps like Sankri, Khasla, Saral, Dhal dhal, Devabasa and Bhesa.

I have seen hail storm in Mysuru city to sometime but at Dhal Dhal Ridge Camp the trekkers experienced huge hail storm which turned the camp site into white out, says Kalpana Seervi of Mysuru; It was freezing cold and when we all came to Devabasa camp and suddenly all our tents were collapsed and we were sent to the dinning tent were in the trekkers experienced huge snow fall and it was almost like 1 feet snow all around and it was a bliss to experience such a moment, says Dr. Pratibha Garla, a dentist from Mysuru.

The trekkers, after ascending 70 degree glacier mountains for over two hours, had summited on Mt. Baraadsar Pass on April 26 at 10.38 am. After spending few minutes on the Pass, the trekkers hoisted the National Flag and saw peaks and valleys like Kedarkantha, Rupin & Supin. It was exhilarating moment, says Dr. Rani Trishuli of Mysuru.

Sharing her experience, Dr. Kalavathi, a Gynaecologist from Mysuru, said having trekked in Kudremukh and Kanoor Kote in Karnataka, it was different feeling trekking on the glacier mountains, it gives a action-packed experience as well the cold send shiver in the spine too.

The team has gone through a tough regime of endurance at Kukkarahalli Lake, Chamundi Hill, Kunti Betta, Hosahalli and Gangothri from Feb.24 to April 14. They were trained by various adventure enthusiasts like A. Anil Kumar, Vinay Singh, Anjali, Navya Ramesh and Tiger Solanki. The trekkers were medically examined by Dr. Bharathi Kondajji Ramachandra.

The expedition was ably guided by ardent Adventure enthusiast PHF D.S.D. Solanki of TAF of Mysuru, Naturalist M. Mohan Kumar from Kanha Tiger Reserve (Madhya Pradesh), Sujith (volunteer), Vaibhav (volunteer) and A. Anil Kumar, Chairman, TAF.

The team members were Riya Solanki (Team Leader), Akshara Anil Kumar, Akanksha Ashok Kothari, Anika Vipul Priya, B.L. Arunakshi, Battapate Rashmi, Chaitra S. Rao, K. Chandni Kushalappa, Dr. Hemalatha, Dr. V.S. Kalavathi, Dr. Pratibha Garla, Dr. M.S. Savitha, Dr. M. Landslides at Hassan-Mangaluru Ghat section

Yeshwantpur-Karwar Express train cancelled; Passengers refunded fares; see rain forecast, then plan journey; Kodagu rivers in spate

Bethri River in Murnad, Kodagu, was full last evening owing to incessant rains.

Mysuru, June 12 (NNN)-In the past few days there has been more than normal monsoon rainfall along the Ghat section of Hassan-Mangaluru Railway lines, especially between Subramanya Road Station and Yedakumeri Station. This more than normal rainfall has caused series of landslides and boulders slips obstructing the Railway line and in places damaging in a stretch of 27 kms.

These landslides have occurred in more than ten places. The first one was noticed at 6.25 am yesterday (June 11) and an expert team of officers including the engineers rushed to the spot and undertook the restoration work, said South Western Railway, Public Relations Officer and Divisional Commercial Manager Dr.S.G. Yatish in a statement.

He said that since the landslide happened at multiple locations, train number 16515 Yeswanthpur - Karwar Express on June 11 was terminated at Hassan Station and passengers refunded the full amount of fare.

Arrangements had been made with KSRTC at Hassan for facilitating onward journey of passengers who wanted to continue their journey further, he added.

"The inclement weather condition is monitored closely and all safety precautions prescribed for monsoon are strictly enforced. Track Patrolling staff are pressed into service and other safety related staff are put on high alert," said Dr. Yathish.

Monsoon is expected to be more than normal for a period of 2-3 months. The rainfall during the last monsoon was 245 mm and the rainfall for the current season till today is 810 mm, that is 230.612 per cent more compared to last year. Therefore, public are requested to observe the forecast for rain and plan the journey accordingly, he said in the press release.

Normal life disrupted

The students, labourers and daily commuters were severely affected by the incessant rain in this section. The traffic was completely disrupted near Charmudi Ghats of Belthangady Taluk in Dakshina Kannada District where the landslide occurred. Boulders and stones fell on the road blocking the traffic which piled up for nearly four kilometres.

The Police later diverted the traffic near Kottigehara via Dharmasthala and Ujjire Road. Likewise the vehicles moving towards Mangaluru were diverted via S.K. Border and Kudure-mukh.

A huge tree had fallen in Mylimane village near Chikmagalur and as a result two houses were completely destroyed. Fortunately, no one was in the house at that time. Due to heavy rains the traffic on Alduru Road was stopped.

The river in Kukke Subbaramanya has reached danger levels due to continuous heavy rains and it has affected the people visiting the temple.

KRS water level rises

WORD OF THE DAY

Baobab

Pronunciation: Baù-ˌbab
Meaning: A short tree with a very thick trunk and large edible fruit, living to a great age.

Origin: A broad-trunked tropical tree (Adansonia digitata) of the silk-cotton family that is native to Africa and has an edible acidic fruit resembling a gourd and bark used in making paper, cloth, and rope. The majestic baobab tree is an icon of the African continent and lies at the heart of many traditional African remedies and folklore.

The baobab is a prehistoric species which predates both mankind and the splitting of the continents over 200 million years ago. Native to the African savannah where the climate is extremely dry and arid, it is a symbol of life and positivity in a landscape where little else can thrive. It is a succulent, which means that during the rainy season it absorbs and stores water in its vast trunk, enabling it to produce a nutrient-dense fruit in the dry season when all around is dry and arid. This is how it became known as "The Tree of Life". They can live for up to 5,000 years, reach up to 30 metres high and up to an enormous 50 metres in circumference. Baobab trees can provide shelter, food and water for animals and humans, which is why many savannah communities have made their homes near Baobab trees.

THE ODD WORD

Treelet

A small or young tree (as a seedling or sapling).

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Money doesn't grow on trees

Meaning: To have to put an effort in earning money. This means that money is something that must be earned and that it is not easy to acquire it. It often means that you should be careful how much you spend, because money is not an infinite resource.

Origin: The phrase comes from the fact that things that grow on trees is usually easy to pick out but money is not in the same league. Parents often say this to their children to make them aware of the issues they face in putting food on the table. The phrase may have originated in the late 19th century although no literary origin could be traced with accuracy.

About the play: 'Parshva Sangeetha' narrates the author's association with the timeless classic melodies of Hindi films, from the 1940s till the recent times. It presents the way in which the wonderful songs are interwoven into our lives and the way they have made an impact on us. Great singers like Sehgal, Talat Mehmood, Rafi, Lata and others, whose melodies ring in our ears and pull the emotional strings of our heart even today, are revisited in the on-stage adaptation of the write-up.

Every generation has their own favourite hero, heroine along with their favourite movies and songs. The narrator in this play reminisces his childhood memories, where the Golden era of Hindi cinema was making its mark on the youth of those days.
